Philadelphia Put On Their Walking Shoes For Sixth Day of General Transit Strike

NO SIGNS OF PEACE

Philadelphia, Feb. 16—(P)—Violence flared on Philadelphia's strike front today as weary workers plodded to their jobs despite the walkout of subway, bus, trolley and taxi workers.

Police reported three motorists were attacked by roving gangs of men. Detectives said they did not establish who the assailants were but that in each case the victims said they were accused of hauling passengers for fare. The men attacked, one of whom was hurt seriously, denied the accusations.

The outbreak came on the second day of a strike by 3,500 AFL taxi drivers and the sixth day since 11,000 CIO Transport Workers Union members quit their jobs on subways, trolleys and buses. Public transportation facilities in the nation's largest city virtually are paralyzed.

Meanwhile, the 4,000,000 residents of the Philadelphia area continued to scramble to work by whatever means they could find. Jammed to capacity suburban railway trains and automobiles carried some. Others put on their walking shoes.

Negotiating sessions resumed today at the offices of the U. S. Conciliation Service. Representatives of the Philadelphia Transportation Company and the union continued their talks but settlement of the wage dispute seemed far away.

At the end of 12 hours of meetings—only 27 minutes of which the company and union talked across the table—Michael J. Quill, international president of the union, announced last night.

"If we have to carry this strike on for three months we are prepared to do so," he said.

The company had nothing to say.

The strike of nearly 4,000 Yellow Cab Company and independent drivers continued despite the pleas of Charles Piroli, president of local 166, AFL-Taxi Drivers Union, that the men go back to work.

Most of the taxi drivers walked out 24 hours ahead of the strike deadline voted on by the membership last week.

But a voice vote of the members yesterday approved the walk-out and another vote called for a meeting today to hear reports of negotiation progress.

Although thousands of Philadelphians had to walk or "thumb" to work and buy the family groceries, car pools and employer-arranged transportation eased the plight of others.

The Pennsylvania Railroad and the Reading Railroad operated additional schedules and arranged times-tables to meet the peak travel times in the morning and evening rush hours.

P.T.C. vehicles normally carry a daily load of some 3,200,000 passengers and Yellow Cabs 105,000 persons.

For hotel guests, the 27-member hotels of the Philadelphia hotel Association arranged to provide free transportation to and from railroad stations for all their guests. The free rides also take guests to air terminals.

Meanwhile in Harrisburg state legislators took steps to outlaw transit shutdowns in the state.

In Philadelphia business the double strike meant millions of dollars in losses. Retail trade was off 50 per cent and downtown department stores announced cancellation of night shopping tonight. Many firms staggering working hours and dismissed help early to ease home-bound traffic jams.

Attendance at public schools varied from 41 to 88 per cent.

The absence of taxi cabs and buses eased some of the traffic on Philadelphia streets. But it was still bumper-to-bumper driving at peak hours.

Controversial Gasoline and Soft Drink Taxes Head For Trouble In State Senate

Harrisburg, Feb. 16—(P)—The controversial gasoline and soft drink taxes—approved in the house by narrow margins—headed for possible new trouble in the state senate today.

The hotly disputed measures went through the lower branch with unexpected Democratic support yesterday after 24-hours of behind-the-scenes maneuvers that brought a cry of "infamous bargain" from one Democratic leader. It was immediately denied by another Democrat.

The first sign of possible senate difficulty arose when the gasoline tax measure, bitterly opposed by the oil industry and other groups was sent to the highways committee instead of the finance committee, which usually handles tax measures in the upper branch.

Lieutenant Governor Daniel B. Stuckler, who made the committee assignment, explained that the highways committee deals with road problems.

Sen. John M. Walker, Republican floor leader, later said it didn't matter which committee considered it and predicted the entire administration tax program will be out of committee by the end of February.

"There will be 35 Republican votes for the soft drink tax," he declared.

But Sen. John G. Snowden (R-Lycoming) chairman of the Senate Highways committee, was more conservative. He told a reporter "We are not going to hurry" the bill to increase the gasoline tax from four to five cents a gallon.

It was Democratic votes, most of them from Allegheny county representatives, that put over the soft drink tax in the House. The Republican leaders could only muster 97 GOP House votes for the soft drink measure on the final showdown. Twelve Democratic votes, however, made the final count 109-93.

On the gasoline tax, the story was different. There were 11 Democrats voting in favor of the tax but there were also 107 Republicans on the administration side—two more than the constitutional majority of 105. The remainder of the administration taxes had easy sailing.

The tax measures will produce $443,000,000 in the next two years. In addition to the controversial issues, the other taxes are those on cigarettes, beer, liquor, gross receipts of utilities, the corporate net income tax and postponement of the exemption of manufacturing capital from the state's capital stock tax.

He charged there was a deal for the Allegheny county votes in return for administration support of a proposed wage tax for that county, now under Democratic control politically.

However, Rep. Homer S. Brown (D-Allegheny) retorted that "we have nothing to hide as far as Allegheny leadership."

Angry Slash In Debate On Pensions Bill

Washington, Feb. 16—(P)—Angry disagreement developed in congress today over a multi-billion dollar veterans pension bill which barreled through the house veterans committee yesterday amid cries of "dictatorship."

Disputing charges of using dictatorial methods in obtaining committee approval, Chairman Rankin (D-Miss) endeavored to override administration opposition and force a quick house vote on the pension proposal.

Although President Truman has let it be known there is no place for veterans pensions in his budget, Rankin predicted it would carry by a landslide in both house and senate if brought to a vote.

The bill would pay $80 a month to the 18,800,000 veterans of both World Wars when they reach 65 years of age, provided they served at least 90 days and were not dishonorably discharged.

The first year's cost of the pension in its present form has been estimated at $129,000,000, increasing annually to an ultimate peak of $6,000,000,000 a year by 1980.

The measure was approved in an uproarious closed-door session of the committee lasting a little over an hour.

Mid-way of the deliberations, six members of the committee—all Democrats—stalked out in protest against what they charged was Rankin's "high-handed" tactics.

Rep. Huber (D-Ohio), one of those who took a walk, said the dissenters were considering writing a minority report to "set forth our views."

Walking out with Huber were Reps. Mack (Ill), Patten (Ariz), Donohue (Mass), Chudoff (Pa), and Rodino (N.J.).

Meanwhile, Rankin sought clearance for his bill from an unrepentant house leadership.

Beloved Former Bishop Of Erie Diocese Dies In Buffalo

The Rt. Rev. John Chamberlain Ward, who made many friends in Warren both in and outside his own denomination in the years in which he served as bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Erie, died Tuesday in Buffalo General Hospital.

Aged 75, he was admitted to the hospital on January 31, having been in an unconscious state since a stroke suffered last Wednesday.

John Chamberlain Ward was born in Elmira, N. Y., on August 27, 1873, and was graduated with honors from Harvard University in 1896. Three years later, he was graduated from General Theological Seminary in New York City.

He was made a deacon in 1899 and advanced to the priesthood in 1900, both at the hand of the late Bishop William D. Walker. He was rector of St. Stephen's church in Buffalo from 1899 to 1902 and of Grace church in that city from 1902 until 1921.

He was consecrated bishop of the Erie Diocese in the latter church on April 13, 1921, and served in that office until he retired on June 1, 1943.

He was chaplain of the 174th New York National Guard and, as such, served with that outfit on the Mexican border and during World War I, was chaplain of the 108th Infantry, 27th Division, AEF, in 1917-18. It will be recalled that he was wounded in action at Le Selle River on October 17, 1918, and later was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action on September 29 and October 17, 1918.

During World War II, Bishop Ward offered his services without remuneration, to the Episcopal mission at Seward, Alaska, after failing in his efforts to again become a military chaplain.

More recently, he had been assisting the Rt. Rev. Malcolm E. Peabody, bishop of the Central New York Diocese, traveling back and forth weekly between Buffalo and Syracuse.

Bishop Ward never married and is survived only by several nieces and nephews.

Services in his memory will be held from Grace Episcopal church, Lafayette avenue, Buffalo, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

FIRE HALTS REPAIRS

Pittsburgh, Feb. 16—(P)—Fire caused an estimated $4,000 damage to a two-story unoccupied house on Carey Way, South Side, last night. The house, unoccupied during repairs, is owned by Andrew Tedesco, who had planned to move in today. Cause of the fire was not determined.

PACT POLICY IS OUTLINED BY ACHESON

Washington, Feb. 16—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson insisted today that the United States intends to make the proposed North Atlantic pact an effective security alliance.

He denied that this country is backing away from its declared policy to do that.

At his news conference today, Acheson cited as a principal statement of American policy President Truman's inauguration speech of January 20.

In that speech, Mr. Truman said the primary purpose of regional defense agreements under the United Nations charter "is to provide unmistakable proof of the joint determination of the free countries to resist armed attack from any quarter."

Acheson said he thinks the senate's foreign policy leaders, Senators Connally (D-Tex) and Vandenberg (R-Mich) and the State Department are all seeking the same thing in the Atlantic treaty pact.

In a statement, Acheson declared:

"With regard to the North Atlantic pact now under discussion, I should like to emphasize that there are no real differences in regard to the objectives which this government is seeking to accomplish."

The secretary also reported that he hopes soon to have a completed treaty text. He said the text will be made public.

Discussions are going on simultaneously with senate leaders and with representatives of key European countries.

The question whether the United States has backed down from the idea of giving the western countries an effective promise of American military help, in event they are attacked, arose as a result of debate in the senate on the defense clause of the treaty project.

On Monday Senators Connally and Vandenberg declared that the American government could not enter into an automatic commitment to go to war. Connally also challenged the idea that the United States would have a "moral obligation" to fight in case one of the alliance members was attacked.

The European press thereupon accused the United States of backing down or running away from its previous strong position.

In his statement, Acheson reviewed various policy declarations on the Atlantic treaty project in recent weeks. He said that if American policy is now as it has been in the past, of course there has been no backing down.

Opposition appeared to be growing steadily stronger in the senate against approving any kind of pledge which would automatically involve this country's armed assistance to another member of the alliance.

While the North Atlantic treaty draft is still secret, it is known that it has contained to date a statement of the principle that an attack on any one member of the alliance would be considered an attack on all of them.

Fear Damage From Spring-like Weather

Erie, Feb. 16—(P)—April in February today seemed likely to do thousands of dollars damage in the rich Lake Erie shore fruit belt in New York and Pennsylvania.

Paul S. Grossman, Erie county farm agent, said unseasonably warm weather plus "spring rains" probably would cause much loss.

"Fruits being forced too quickly into bud are facing great danger from later freezing weather," Grossman stated.

Cherries and peaches may be expected to suffer most, he said, with some loss to early apples.

Meanwhile, citizens enjoyed the warmest Feb. 15 in Erie's history. The temperature got as high as 63 degrees.

Injunction Is Denounced By Green At Committee Meet

Washington, Feb. 16—(P)—If the government had jailed John L. Lewis in the 1948 coal strike the miners would have "stood like the rock of Gibraltar and never moved," AFL President William Green told senators today.

Green made the statement to the senate labor committee in opposition to the Taft-Hartley law provision which lets the government get 80-day injunctions against "national emergency" strikes.

The government did get an injunction last year when the United Mine Workers headed by Lewis struck in a dispute over a pension fund.

Green told the committee, however, that the miners went back to the pits only after the mine operators "met their duty."

"The miners stood like a stone wall even though their leader was to go to jail," Green shouted. "That's why the injunction won't work."

The committee is studying the administration's labor bill. It would repeal the Taft-Hartley law and replace it with a modified Wagner act. The AFL has endorsed that program.

A Lazy Day in February

Midwest Residents Begin To Worry Over Possibilities Of Floods Following Blizzards

Omaha, Feb. 16—(P)—Will the big snow be followed by the big flood?

Residents of the midwest blizzard area asked each other that question today as they waited to see what new thawing would bring.

"I don't think it is possible to get out of this situation without some flooding," Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, operation snowbound commander, had warned.

There is a large flood potential on all major Missouri tributaries, said Gen. Pick, whose regular job has been that of Missouri river division engineer. How much flooding there is, would depend on how the snow melts.

The weather bureau sounded a note of hope, but even that had a bitter ring for winter-weary Nebraskans.

A late spring, said the bureau, would allow nature to work its own solution to the flood problem.

On the other hand, a big thaw in the next few days would be the best bet for a big flood.

This is the way the weather bureau sizes it up:

For weeks, the vast blizzard-struck areas of the upper Missouri basin have been storing up a snow reserve. There has been little thawing, and new snow has been piled on old.

When the snow melts, it must either evaporate, soak into the ground or run off.

Evaporation would be negligible if a lot of snow melted in the next few days. Over a period of weeks, however, evaporation could carry off a substantial amount of moisture.

In most places, not much moisture will soak into the ground within a week or so. In the Omaha area, the ground is frozen to a depth of 24 inches, and the frost isn't expected to make a very hasty exit.

Diplomats Express To Pope Condolences Over Cardinal

Vatican City, Feb. 16—(P)—Diplomats of 33 nations today expressed to Pope Pius XII their condolences on the sentencing of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary to life imprisonment.

The pontiff in an address of gratitude termed the mass audience unique in the history of the Holy See's diplomatic relationships. Speaking in French, he said he awaits the "hour when all nations put forth friendly hands to collaborate for the restoration of humanity at present torn by hatreds and discords."

Of the diplomats accredited to the Vatican who were in Rome today only Yugoslav Charge d'Affaires Petar Benzon failed to attend. He pleaded illness. Two years ago Yugoslavia sentenced for 16 years another high Catholic, Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac, on charges of collaborating with the Germans.

Minister Arthur Malsiner of Czechoslovakia, the only other iron curtain country maintaining a diplomat at the Vatican, was not in Rome.

The diplomats, including Franklin C. Gowen, special assistant to Myron C. Taylor, President Truman's special representative, were in full dress with decorations.

The audience was held in Consistorial Hall of the Apostolic Palace where two days ago the Pope poured out his grief over the Mindszenty case in an extraordinary consistency of 16 cardinals.

The Pope has made two major pronouncements concerning the Mindszenty case. Yet again Sunday he is to address a huge mass meeting by Catholic Action in the square before St. Peter's church.

The diplomats stood in a semi-circle about the Pope's ivory and gold throne while he spoke today. He used no notes. After he ended the discourse he came down from the throne and shook hands with and blessed each representative personally. In making the rounds he spoke in English, French, Spanish, Portuguese and German.

Czech Trials Surrounded By Secrecy

Munich, Germany, Feb. 16—(P)—Strict secrecy surrounded the opening today of the first of five "Czech spy trials" before an eight-man U. S. military commission.

The chairman of the military commission, which is empowered to impose the death penalty, has ruled that revelation of the trial testimony or even of the identity of the accused would endanger the security of the United States.

The chairman, Brig. Gen. John L. McKee, said the court would not make public its verdict. The charge is sale of important secret information to the Communist-dominated Czech government.

He said the same rules would apply to the fifth case, but that the second, third and fourth trials would be public.

The series of trials have been known in Germany as the "Czech spy trials." When the U. S. Army reported the arrest of about 20 alleged agents last fall they were identified as members of a Czech intelligence ring, although most of them were not of Czech nationality.

Five military policemen this morning brought a slight, dark-haired man of about 30 into the building where the commission is sitting.

One Death Results From Jersey Blast

Kearny, N. J., Feb. 16—(P)—One man was killed and another critically injured by a violent explosion at the Koppers coke plant here yesterday.

Hugh Snedden, 43, Jersey City, died late last night at Christ Hospital in Jersey City. Salvatore Grasso, 27, was on the critical list at the hospital. Four other men were out to lunch at the time of the noonday blast.

Six hours earlier a string of ten gasoline tanks exploded at the American Oil Company in Carteret, 15 miles away. A huge oil storage tank was set afire.

The Carteret explosion was set off when a tank truck caught fire. A shower of burning gasoline touched off the 10 tanks like a string of firecrackers. The fire was extinguished as it threatened to creep through pipelines to a second storage tank.

The Koppers coke plant blast shook the towers of Manhattan across the Hudson river and was felt as far away as Queens and Brooklyn. Calls for information jammed police and newspaper switchboards.

Rate Increase For Times-Mirror Less Than 2c a Week

Starting March 1st the subscription price of the Times-Mirror will be increased one dollar per year, making the home delivery price of the paper $10.00. The mail delivery price will be increased the same amount. This means an advance in price of less than 2c per week.

This increase is brought by the completion of negotiations with the typographical union which calls for an increase in pay of 22 1/2%, or $12.00 per week per person. This same ratio of increase is reflected throughout the entire plant. Newspaper paper has increased more than 50% in the past three years and everything else going into the publication of a newspaper has increased in a like manner.

Even with the increase the subscription price of the Times-Mirror is much lower than a majority of the newspapers in this section of the state. In most of these towns the rate runs from a high of $15.60 in Meadville and Oil City to a low of $11.25 in Cannonsburg, Pa. In another part of today's paper will be found an announcement showing the rate charged by the different papers.

Premier Sun Not Returning To Nanking

Canton, Feb. 16—(P)—The breach between acting Premier Li Tsung-Jen and Premier Sun Fo widened today with a denial by Sun that he had offered to resign.

The Premier rejected anew demands that he and his cabinet resign or return to Nanking, where Li is trying to hold the government together.

Sun also quashed local reports that he and T. V. Soong, former Kwangtung province governor, would go to Portuguese Macao for a rest.

Departure for Macao at this critical period would be tantamount to yielding to pressure from Nanking for dissolution of the Sun cabinet.

Emerging from his third Canton cabinet meeting, Sun made his denial that he had offered his resignation. He had been reported by Nanking sources to have asked permission to take a rest.

Sun was reported attempting to enlist support of South China members of the Legislative Yuan.

Erie Having Fuss Over City Affairs

Erie, Feb. 16—(P)—The city of Erie today was under a court order not to pay for over $115,000 worth of equipment it bought in 1948.

A preliminary injunction restraining the city was handed down yesterday by Judge Burton R. Laub on a petition from the Erie Taxpayers Economic Association.

The association, headed by H. C. Sims, Erie businessman, alleged city council bought the equipment without getting written bids and declared no provision had been made for the purchases in the city's 1948 budget.

Though the city pleaded it had made only "an emergency purchase," Judge Laub called the action "an extraordinary course of conduct."

"There has not been the slightest hint of any fraud in the award of these contracts," said the judge, "but this does not mean the court must await actual fraud before acting."

OHIO TOWN TO WAR ON 'PEEPING TOMS'

East Liverpool, O., Feb. 16—(P)—"Peeping Toms" will receive more than a "slap on the wrist" if they're convicted here.

City council adopted a measure yesterday that provides a $500 fine and a six-month jail term.

Passed as emergency legislation, it amounts to a revision of a 52-year-old ordinance that provided only a $20 maximum fine "for frightening the inmates of a house."

The new penalties are the maximum the state law allows for a misdemeanor and follows numerous complaints of "peeping Toms" received earlier.

Bradford Man Killed

Olean, N. Y., Feb. 16—(P)—Harold Kroh, 40, Bradford, Pa., was injured fatally today when his automobile struck a traffic signal.

HAROLD G. IRWIN, JR., VICTIM OF EARLY MORNING ACCIDENT ON RT. 27 NEAR PITTSFIELD

Harold G. Irwin, Jr., 31, superintendent of the Irwin Manufacturing Company of Garland, was killed instantly today at 2:40 a. m. when his car left the road on a curve in Route 27 near Pittsfield, plunged over an embankment and struck a large maple tree. The car, a 1948 Studebaker convertible coupe, was demolished.

The accident occurred just west of the bridge at Pittsfield and was the third fatality to occur on Warren county highways this year.

Irwin was returning home from a business trip to Buffalo and is believed to have fallen asleep at the wheel.

Investigation by State Police, Sheriff L. E. Linder and Coroner Ed C. Lowrey disclosed the car ran off the right side of the road onto the berm, and then plunged over the embankment.

The accident was discovered by members of the Albin H. Abraham family, of Pittsfield, who live a short distance from the scene.

Mrs. Abraham said she was awakened by the constant blowing of an automobile horn. Family members saw the car over the embankment and upon investigation, found Irwin was slumped over the steering wheel.

They notified state police. Dr. Thomas H. Gettings, of Youngsville, also was called. He pronounced Irwin dead at the scene, and said he apparently died instantly of a crushed chest and internal injuries.

Coroner Lowrey said today he would issue a certificate of accidental death.

Mr. Irwin is survived by his wife, Audrey; two children, Roberta and Jacqueline; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Irwin, Sr., of Garland, who are now in Florida; and two sisters, Mrs. Irene Bellahook of Gallion, Ohio, and Mrs. Adella Storch, of Erie.

With his father, another member of the family, Mr. Irwin had been very active in establishment and maintenance of the community center in Garland. He was a 32nd degree Mason and member of Zeta (Turn to Page Seven)

MAN IS FREED IN WILLIAM TELL DEATH

Bedford, Feb. 16—(P)—A criminal court jury freed Clark Morgan, 34, of manslaughter charges yesterday in the "William Tell" slaying of a tavernkeeper friend.

Morgan freely admitted he tried to shoot a whisky glass off the head of his friend, Thomas B. Leary, with a .22 pistol on Feb. 5.

"I still can't see how I missed," said Morgan, a resident of Cumberland, Md., adding that he tried the shot only at Leary's repeated insistence.

Attorney Edward J. Ryan told the jury the tragedy in his opinion was similar to a "beanball" accident in baseball whereby a pitcher hits a batter in the head while not meaning to do so.

The jury ordered Morgan to pay costs of prosecution.

LATROBE QUADS MAKE BIG BIRTHDAY HAUL

Latrobe, Feb. 16—(P)—The birthday loot of the Zavada quads includes $1,205 in cash, four rocking horses and four toy pianos.

All four of the youngsters—John Michael, Bernadette, Barbara and Anna Mary—were bright yellow for their first anniversary yesterday. They got all smug from their birthday cake and generally had a big time.

The Greek Catholic Union, a fraternal group, gave Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zavada a check for $1,165 to be used for the babies' care during their second year. Officials of the Barclay Westmoreland Trust Co. handed each quad a bankbook worth a grand total of $1,000.

The pianos came from an uncle and the rockinghorses from Dr. J. Wiley Hartman, who delivered the babies.

Controversy Over Quota Law Still On

Harrisburg, Feb. 16—(P)—The much-argued question of whether clubs are subject to quota provisions of the liquor control law will be settled by the present legislature, a Republican senator promised today.

This question has been hanging too long and has caused too much trouble," said A. H. Letzler (R-Clearfield) chairman of the Senate's law and order committee.

Letzler promised that the issue "will be decided in some way this session."

He said the liquor law falls clearly to specify the position of clubs in regard to its provision granting licenses on the basis of existing 1,000 population. As a result many county courts have handed down opposing interpretations on the issue. Some courts claim that clubs are exempt from the provision quota; others claim they are subject to its terms.

The Liquor Control Board has held clubs are in the quota.

Liquid Oxygen Is Subject Of Student Talk

Dr. Paul C. Saunders, professor of chemistry at Alfred University, demonstrated and lectured on the uses of liquid oxygen at the high school Tuesday morning.

Brought here by the Student Council, he was making his third appearance in Warren, having given his scientific talk to students in 1940 and again in 1945.

Ruth Davis, chairman of Student Council's special activities committee, introduced Dr. Saunders, who began his lecture by emphasizing that liquid oxygen is air in a liquid state.

He then conducted a series of experiments, showing the extreme low temperature of the oxygen by freezing grapes, an egg, mercury, alcohol, and rubber into solids. He explained, also, that when this oxygen comes in direct contact with the skin, it will burn severely.

He explained that liquid air is used for resuscitation and pneumonia cases and as a source of oxygen and nitrogen for industrial uses. It will run an engine, as he demonstrated with a toy, but the liquefying process is too expensive to make this use practical.

Dr. Saunders concluded his lecture, touching the biological sciences, by freezing goldfish in the oxygen and then placing it in cold water, where it resumed its natural state of liveliness.

Burglar alarms which are wired into police headquarters from various establishments about town, were being given a routine test today.

KING-SIZE PARSNIP

Garden crops apparently are responding to the "California" weather that has prevailed in the Warren county area this winter. Paul Gibson, of Youngsville, went out to his garden yesterday and dug up a giant-sized parsnip that weighed 2½ pounds. Paul brought the big vegetable to the Times-Mirror office where it has been placed on display.

K. OF C. PLANS EVENT

Arrangements are being completed for the annual Past Grand Knights' dinner and meeting of Warren Council, No. 964, Knights of Columbus, to be held next Thursday evening, February 24. The committee in charge reports that reservations must be made immediately for the dinner, which will be followed by a short meeting and dancing party.

ELKS' MEETING

The Pennsylvania State Elks' Association will hold its annual convention in Harrisburg August 22-25. Lloyd C. Pike, general chairman, announced yesterday. Pike said that a memorial service on the evening of Monday, August 22, will start the convention, with business sessions running through Thursday will climax the four-day event.

REMINDER TO ELKS

Elks' Lodge members who have not yet secured tickets for the annual dinner-dance on Saturday evening are reminded that they should do so at once. Dinner will be served at seven o'clock and dancing will be from nine until one. This will be the first opportunity for the ladies to see the newly-decorated clubhouse and admire the many improvements which have been made.

LABOR VOTE ORDERED

The National Labor Relations Board has ordered an election to determine the bargaining agent for employees at the McKean plant, Smethport, of the Quaker State Oil Refining Corp. The International Chemical Workers Union, AFL, District 50, United Mine Workers of America and Oil Workers International Union, CIO, seek recognition as the employees' representative.

SUGAR WEATHER

The vicinity is enjoying another of its fine spring-like days today with sugar bush owners, who have not already done so, busily engaged in cleaning up their equipment for the making of Warren county's luscious product for which Vermont enjoys such a big reputation. In addition to the sugar weather, the river, which rose rapidly yesterday following the heavy rains, is having an opportunity to recede to its proper level.

PERMANENT PLATES

Permanent license plates are the coming thing according to three Democratic senators. A measure in the Senate committee on highways called for one permanent license plate on any vehicle while two annual registration stickers would be placed on the front and back windows at no increase in cost to motorists. Sen. William J. Lane, Washington, co-sponsor of the bill, said the procedure would save the state some $200,000 yearly.

NEARLY KILLED

Kenneth Jones, of Westfield, N. Y., was nearly killed when he tumbled into the back part of a horse-drawn manure spreader last week and a revolving spike was driven deep into his back. He was standing on the spreader when the horses lurched and he fell on the bottom, catching his coat on the revolving machinery. A passing motorist was attracted by his waving hand and took him to the Westfield hospital where he is resting comfortably. His mother, Mrs. Hazel Jones, lives at 304 East Spruce street, in Titusville.

Important Announcement!!

On March 1st, 1949, the subscription price of the TIMES-MIRROR, for delivery to the home, by carrier, will be increased $1.00 per year, making the new subscription rate $10.00 per year. The rate by mail will also be increased $1.00 per year. The increase will be less than 2c per week.

This increase is brought about by the fact that we have been forced to increase the wages of the employees in our mechanical department 22½ per cent, or $12.00 a week, for each employee. This same increase is reflected throughout the entire plant.

Newsprint paper has increased in the past three years more than 50 per cent; linotype metal has increased nearly 200 per cent. All materials and services entering into the publication of the TIMES-MIRROR have increased in like proportion.

Even with this increase, the subscription price of the TIMES-MIRROR is much lower than any of the papers in this section of the State. We list below some of the papers and their subscription rates, for home delivery:

Meadville Tribune-Republican	$15.60 per year
Franklin, Pa., News-Herald	14.00 per year
DuBois Courier Express	12.48 per year
Homestead Daily Messenger	12.48 per year
New Castle News	15.35 per year
Titusville Herald	12.40 per year
Jamestown Post-Journal	15.60 per year
Oil City Derrick	15.60 per year
Kittanning Leader	15.35 per year
Sharon Herald	15.60 per year
Bradford Era	14.00 per year
Washington, Pa., Reporter	15.60 per year
Jeanette News-Dispatch (5 days)	$12.50 per year
Donora, Pa., Daily Citizen (5 days)	10.40 per year
Ambridge, Pa., Daily Citizen (5 days)	12.75 per year
Cannonsburg, Pa., Daily Notes (5 days)	11.25 per year

A majority of the above papers are published six days a week, but even so, the home delivered price of the TIMES-MIRROR, per copy, at the new rate, is much lower than most of them.

The average rate by mail in the 1st and 2nd zones of the above papers is from $7.50 to $15.00 per year.

Present com away were the Rev. and Mrs. DeForest Tennies, Kinzie. The hostess is Mrs. Lida Wilcox.

Anniversary Is Observed By Nat'l PTA

More than 30,000 special birthday cakes, each bearing 52 candles, are being lighted today in the United States and its territories in observance of the 52nd birthday anniversary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The organization was established on February 17, 1897, at a meeting of 2,000 persons in Washington, D. C., under the leadership of Alice McLehman Birney, first president, and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, mother of William Randolph Hearst.

Today, 30,000 units all over the country are lighting candles as "a reminder that this is, in truth, a birthday party, honoring persons and ideas which we all revere."

In a special pre-Founders' Day message issued by Mrs. W. L. Hughes, of Arlington, Pa., national president, this fact was pointed out to the 5,127,000 members of the congress:

"We are pledged to work for the greatest of all national and international resources—the children." She urged PTA's to "take deep and justifiable pride in honoring Mrs. Birney and Mrs. Hearst, whose judgment and keen understanding drew the blueprint from which has been built so sound a structure."

Concluding, she asked that members "in drawing inspiration from history look forward to adding fresh chapters of accomplishment."

Beaty Torch Is Credit To Staff - School

A bit belated but none the less sincere is a word of commendation for the mid-winter issue of the Beaty Torch, published by the Newsprinters with the assistance of The Art Club at Beaty Junior High School.

The 60-page edition, with blue and gold covers, bears on its front page a bird's-eye view of the school and is a real credit to Editor John Mangus, Co-editor Marcia Stevens, and the following production staff: Advisor, Richard Anderson; cover, Patty Larsen and Kay Gibson; printing, F. H. Hetrick, Charles Salerno, Richard Eggleston, Chase Putnam, Jon Ryberg, Robert Koebley, Robert Fitzgerald; typing, Miss Suzanne Lesser; art advisor, Joseph Spence.

The current edition starts off in a serious vein, with editorials which consider the flood menace, the school, the Citizenship League and community parties.

Under the caption, "On the Banks of the Conewango," a series of articles deals with History of Warren, Johnny Applesed, Steamboats on the Allegheny, Warren's First School, and Impressions of Beaty in both prose and verse, and presents much that is of interest to both student and adult readers.

Other departments include fiction, poetry, the honor roll for the first and second six-weeks periods, sports and hobbies, humor and fun, crossword puzzle, and the roster of advertisers whose products dot the pages in a variety of illustrations.

Penn'a Motor Truckers To Form Supervisor's School

D. L. Taylor, of Tione, president of the Warren branch of the Pennsylvania Motor Truckers Association has announced the formation of a school for fleet truck supervisors in Warren to be conducted in conjunction with the Pennsylvania State College extension service. With ten lectures and one road demonstration scheduled during the course, the school will be held starting March 9th and will continue through May 18th. The meetings are to be held every Wednesday evening during this period in the offices of the United Refining Company.

This is the first time this course has ever been offered to small fleet operators and all truck owners and fleet operators in Warren county are eligible to attend the school. S. L. Myer, of the William E. Crossett Company, is in charge of registration and all interested truckers and operators should contact him for more detailed information about the school. The registration fee for the course has been set at $20.00.

Each of the lectures will be of two and one half hours duration and will cover a variety of subjects ranging from driver selection through accident prevention and truck maintenance. Each lecture will be given by a recognized authority on the subject. Present for each meeting will be Joseph Intorre, assistant director of the traffic engineering department of the Pennsylvania State College and head of driver education and driving training at the college. Mr. Intorre works directly under Amos Neyhart, head of the department on traffic engineering and road consultant for the American Automobile Association.

While this course has been in operation for some time in the larger population centers of the state, this is the first time that a town the size of Warren has been able to offer the course to its truck operators. Preliminary arrangements for this course were made through the cooperation of Barnhart-Davis Co., E. H. Ley, B. V. Lesser, W. H. Alexander, Emblem Oil Company, Warren County Dairy, Warren County Motor Club, Walker Creamery Products Company, Warren Transfer and Storage Company, Masterson Transfer Company, and the William F. Crossett Company.

The trucking industry in Warren county has assumed major economic proportions in the past few years. Today, more than six million dollars is invested in trucking equipment in the county and the annual payroll to 1700 Warren countians is in excess of four million dollars. Greater operating efficiency and safety as taught in this fleet truck supervisors school can result in a definite economic savings to truck owners and fleet operators.

Why not get all this in YOUR new car?

Owners of low-built Hudsons have it!

Owners of New Hudsons are seeing for themselves that the lower a car can be built, the more graceful its lines can be made, the better it will ride, the more surely it will handle, and the safer it will be!

Because people who drive Hudsons "step down" into an exciting, new kind of automobile, they enjoy more head room and roomier seats—in an automobile only five feet from ground to top—than in any mass-produced car built today! Yet Hudson has ample road clearance!

But roominess is only one of the wonderful advantages that go with the automobile that is so far ahead it's a protected investment in motor car value.

Here are more:
Authentic beauty—the "step down" principle is so basically right it frees designers of the need for makeshift styling, enables Hudson to achieve pleasing proportions, symmetric, free-flowing lines.

A hug-the-road ride, and a smooth, steady way of going, because Hudson has the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car!

Performance? You bet! Hudson's all-new, high-compression Super Six engine—or the masterful Super-Eight, get every chance to perform at their brilliant best, because this car is so low-built, so streamlined!

A new measure of safety, because you ride completely encircled by the sturdy, box-section steel girders of Hudson's Monobilt body-and-frame.

We invite you to visit your nearby Hudson showroom, to see all the advantages you are entitled to in your new car! **

School Dramatic Club Is Permitted Players' Preview

Everything is ready for the opening of "John Loves Mary" and tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock the curtain rises on the 57th public production of the Warren Players. Seat reservations indicate a full house will be on hand to see this engaging comedy by the author of "Dear Ruth."

Members of the High School Dramatic Club will be guests at the final dress rehearsal tonight. On Sunday evening the dress rehearsal went quite smoothly and the past two nights have been spent ironing out the small flaws apparent there. After that performance, Dave Smith, the director, said, "Now I can go home and get a good night's sleep. I think we have a really good show."

The properties committee has finally secured a picture of Herbert Hoover from the library and the costume committee was able to get the long-sought general's stars from the Erie Playhouse, which had in turn had them flown from Guam for their own production of "John Loves Mary."

The make-up committee has had no special problems, but wait until you see how handsome Bill Brewer is with an iron-gray mustache. The set—the living room of the New York apartment of Senator McKinley—is very attractive now that it is completed. All in all, we agree with Dave that it's going to be "a good show."

Edgar E. Martin, 25 years a comic artist, answering some of his fan mail. Sketches show a few of the characters he has made famous. Below is the first "Boots and Her Buddies" strip, Feb. 18, 1924.

By HAL COCHRAN
NEA Staff Correspondent
A quarter of a century ago—to be exact, Feb. 18, 1924—the girl who was to become known as the "Sweetheart of the Comics" made her first appearance in newspapers all over the country. She was Boots, star character then and still star character in Edgar E. Martin's comic strip "Boots and Her Buddies."

Today "Boots and Her Buddies" reaches an audience of more than 80,000,000 readers and is one of the notable features in The Warren Times-Mirror—and today the 519 daily and 229 Sunday newspapers in which it appears are united in congratulating Edgar E. Martin as he celebrates the 25th anniversary of his popular comic.

Mary Muffet and Betty Lee achieve a triumph in washable snowsuits, a rayon fabric with the appearance of expensive linen. A spirited dress that goes everywhere, fits everyone and is universally becoming! Designed in junior sizes for women of all ages who appreciate youthful styling, slim alert lines. Stitch fly-front, convertible collar and gay perky all-around peplum over huge inset pockets.

Martin as he celebrates the 25th anniversary of his popular comic. Drew Salamanders, Frogs, Grasshoppers.

It was in July, 1921, when Martin, then 23, landed a job in the comic art department of NEA Service, Inc. (The Newspaper Enterprise Association). Having first tried his hand at drawing when he made sketches of salamanders, frogs and grasshoppers, it was a big jump to comic sketches, especially to sketches of pretty girls.

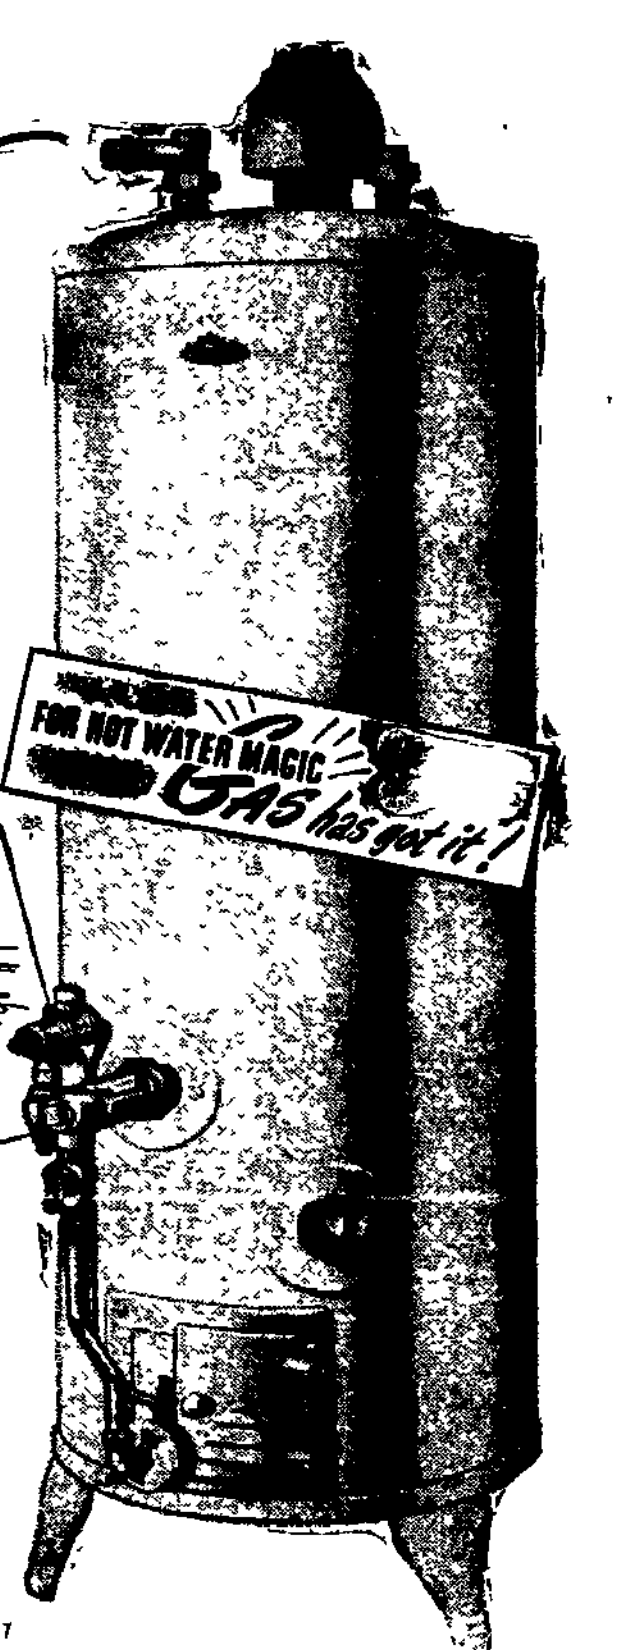

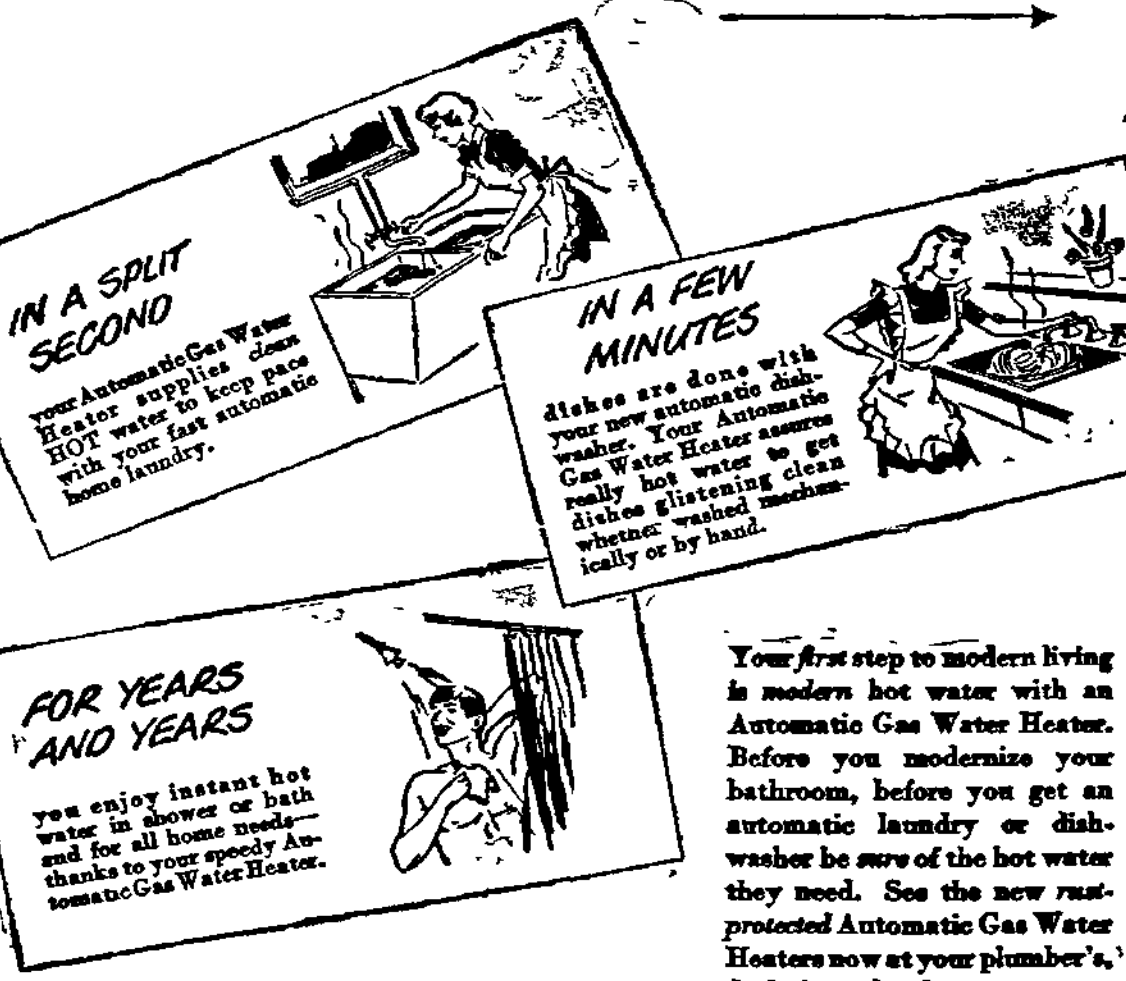

Martin was born in Indianapolis, Ind., July 6, 1898. Shortly thereafter his family moved to Nashville, Tenn., and then to Monmouth, Ill., where his father was a professor at Monmouth College. It was in his early college days that Martin began drawing replicas and such. In his junior year he quit Monmouth College to enter the Academy of Fine Arts in Chicago. His art prospered and he joined NEA Service.

At first he drew several comics with varying success—"Fables of 1921," "Efficiency Ed" and "Taken From Life." In 1924 NEA was looking for a girl comic. Several artists who had submitted sample strips were asked to re-submit them. Martin heard about this and, in his off hours at home, tried his hand in that field. His comic, unsigned, was considered with the others—and it was the one picked. "How soon can we get this artist?" one of the comic board members asked. "In about one minute," the comic art director replied. "He works here."

So, on Feb. 18, 1924, Boots was "born" as the main character in "Boots and Her Buddies." Originally the strip featured four girls—Boots, Cora, Marge and Ann. It wasn't long, however, until Martin decided that four girls were too many for one fellow to keep track of, and Ann and Marge were dropped. Cora, a school teacher, remained true to type, while Boots was developed into a glamour girl and became widely known as the "Sweetheart of the Comics."

Attending numerous style shows, Martin became a fashion expert. Years of dressing Boots developed (Turn to Page Ten)

Body of County Soldier Is En Route

TO HAVE MONEY, LEARN HOW TO SPEND IT.

Warren R. D. 2, have been advised by the Columbus, O., distribution center that the body of their son, Pfc. Paul Alfred Phillips, is en route to the United States for final rites and reinterment.

Removal will be made to the Borden Funeral Home in Sheffield, the arrangements for services in his memory to be announced when the time of arrival is learned.

Paul Alfred Phillips was born on May 6, 1922, at Trueman, and is survived by his parents; a daughter, Paula Darlene, and the following brothers and sisters: George, Sheffield; Robert, Donald and John, Bradford; Philip and Mrs. Ruth Gerardi, Warren; and Bernice, Philadelphia.

Young Phillips volunteered for service with the Marine Corps on September 2, 1943, and received his training at Parris Island, S. C., and Camp Lejeune, N. C. He left for overseas in January, 1944, and was killed in action on the Orote Peninsula, Island of Guam, on July 26, 1944.

Here is a simple system: Plan your spending, then save. First set aside funds to pay fixed expenses like rent, insurance, and interest and payments on loans. What you have left you can use for living, fun and future needs. But here's the secret: Before you start to spend, deposit something in your thrift account for tomorrow. Try it.

Midwest Residents Begin To Worry Over Possibilities of Floods

If the snow doesn't evaporate and doesn't soak in, it will have to run off. That's where the danger lies.

Says a weather bureau engineer's report: "All indications are for excessive spring runoffs associated with high water and serious ice jams."

Fresh snow, cold blasts and flood threats plagued areas in the western storm states today.

Conditions remained critical in some areas of Wyoming, Utah and Idaho from the almost daily attacks of inclement weather.

Three Idaho communities were isolated. The mining town of Bingham, Canyon County, isolated

Pact Policy Is Outlined By Acheson

Washington, Feb. 16.—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson said today American policy on the occupation and defense of Japan is still the same and no change is planned.

Acheson told a news conference the statement applied specifically to reports from Tokyo that: 1. American troops would be pulled out of Japan in the event of war, and 2. The United States considers Japan to be indefensible.

RIVER CHECKED

A sudden drop in the temperature yesterday afternoon and last night today apparently had checked the sharp rise in the Allegheny river level at Warren. The stream, which climbed from 3.7 feet last Sunday to an eight-foot level late yesterday apparently is cresting at that point and may start to fall tonight or tomorrow.

Weather Observer "Doc" Jordan said the mercury fell from a balmy high of 54 last evening to a drivelling fuel supply and the vast copper mine there was virtually shut down.

Fifty-five persons were marooned at the Timberline Lodge at the Mt. Hood ski resort in Oregon and snow continued falling.

Rail and highway travel again was disrupted in parts of the snow-covered areas of northern California, northeastern Nevada, Wyoming, Utah and Idaho.

Flood dangers appeared in western Oregon following heavy rains and thawing conditions. The Willamette river is expected to reach flood stage—13 feet—at Jefferson in the heart of the rich farming area. This area normally is the first affected by rising streams.

The Dakotas, eastern Montana and Minnesota got most of the new cold wave. Temperatures dropped below zero from Miles City, Mont., across North Dakota. No snow accompanied the mass of cold air, but winds were fairly strong.

In contrast to the storms and cold in the west, milder weather was short-sleeved in the south, eastern and middle Atlantic states.

By Green At Committee Meeting

Green accused the government of lining up with the mine operators in last year's coal strike.

He said that eventually both the operators and the government "gave in and gave the miners everything they asked for before the strike." He added that the operators "could have prevented that tragic thing—the strike—if they had met what Green called their "public obligation."

"Have you ever thought of putting anything in the law to require the mine owners to measure up to their responsibility?" Green demanded.

Green's statements were prompted by questions from Senator Donnell (R-Mo.).

"The courts are the only ultimate power," Donnell said.

"And the courts accomplish nothing," Green shot back.

LOTS of housewives who think they are overworked and tied down have time for things a working girl can't manage.

Time for long, chaty telephone conversations with other housewives.

Time for an afternoon tea or bridge game now and then.

Time to shop leisurely enough to hunt for bargains or find just the right dress or hat.

Time to catch a short nap when the children are taking theirs, if the day has been especially hard.

Time to do their marketing in the morning before the markets are crowded, instead of having to wait until the five to six o'clock rush.

TIME FOR PARTIES

TIME to spend hours preparing for a party, when they entertain.

Perhaps, even time for membership in a club or two, or for some handicraft that can be done in the home.

Time to put things off until tomorrow, if today isn't going too well.

What the woman who feels she is tied to her home fails to take into consideration is the fact that the working girl whose freedom she sometimes envies is also tied—only she is tied to an office. And being tied to a home is in no way as confining as being tied to an office day after day.

Remember that next time you get to feeling sorry for yourself because you are tied down.

"Boots" Celebrates Her 25th Anniversary

a style sense that designers of feminine finery often copy.

In 1926, after Boots' brother Bill took her to New York on a shopping spree, in preparation for the Easter Parade on Fifth Avenue, Boots was given a new hair-cut called the "Boots Bob." It clicked immediately and was endorsed by leading hair dressers of New York and other large cities.

In 1927, when Cora, with whom Boots had been rooming, married Professor Stephen Tuttle, Boots moved in with them. Meanwhile, a new character, Babe, entered the strip as a close friend of Boots.

In the early days Boots had her greatest following among high school and college students. They loved this glamorous girl, delighted in her numerous romances. In 1939 Boots was honored guest, in sketch form, at the Yale Junior Prom, in New Haven. In formal attire, she occupied a place of honor among the ballroom decorations. Martin drew "Guest Ticket Number One" from the prom contest. One of Martin's toughest jobs came later the same year when he was picked to settle a battle of beauty between co-ed teams from Agron University and Kent State University at Akron, O. The Akron co-eds won—and Martin escaped from town all in one piece.

Popular little Pug, destined to become one of the cutest kids in the comics, first appeared in "Boots and Her Buddies" in March 1939, when Boots took her from a summer resort to the Tuttle home after Pug's father, J. X. "Bettlem" High, a world traveler, disappeared. Later, the father turned up and decided to leave Pug in Tuttle's care.

Readers Demanded Wedding Bells

Martin kept Boots in gaiety and single blessedness until 1945. Readers will remember the numerous swains who came to pay court to her, but it was Rod Ruggles who brought a mighty crescendo of letters demanding wedding bells, and Martin decided to let Boots go to the altar. She and Rod were married Oct. 2, 1945.

"Boots and Her Buddies" became a family comic, with appeal for all ages, when a new kind of romance came into the life of Boots—a baby boy, born July 4, 1946. Again Martin's great army of readers displayed their interest by besieging him with suggestions for names for the baby and he picked the one that was the most popular—David.

Recently Pug went to live with

Boots and Rod. She became an established member of the family when her father's yacht was lost at sea with all on board. As Pug has grown from a cross between Polyanna and Peck's bad boy to brash adolescence, her popularity has grown with millions of newspaper readers. She has become an invaluable character in Martin's strip.

For years Edgar E. Martin lived in Cleveland, O., headquarters of NEA. He now makes his home in Clearwater, Fla., and though he still attends style shows and now and then judges a Boots contest, he prefers spending his time at home with his wife and daughters, and indulging in an occasional round of golf.

To his intimates, Martin is known as "Abe"—to millions of others, as the man who draws "Boots and Her Buddies," the comic that is not only still going strong, but is more popular than ever—after 25 long years.

COLE HILL

Cole Hill, Feb. 14—The farmers in this section who are members of the Warren County Artificial Breeding Cooperative have been informed by the president, H. A. Ludwick, of the annual meeting which will be held at the Town Barn in Star Brick Friday, February 18th. Beginning promptly at 10:30 a. m. Joe Taylor, Dairy Specialist of State College, will talk on the subject "Breeding Troubles and the Artificial Breeding Program". George Thompson, manager of the Central at Clarion, will make a report on the business of the Central. He will also show moving pictures of the laboratory side of the artificial breeding program which includes the collection and handling of semen until it is shipped. There will be a report of the local association and it is important that members be present. Lunch will be available at the meeting.

Several farmers from this section attended the Commissioners tax sale held in the large court room of the Warren county court house Thursday Feb. 10th. There was a small crowd compared to other tax sales, and land sold cheap.

The school children held another hot-dog sale in the Garland school house Thursday for the benefit of the eighth grade graduation class. The public is invited to these sales which are usually held once a month as well as the student body.

Bert Flasher, of Davy Hill, who was thrown from a horse last fall and fractured his right arm is not recovering as well as his friends would like.

Valentines are making their appearance in the mails the last few days. Uncle Sam gets another half cent postage since the new postal rates went into effect. Now, 2 cents are required to send cards unsealed.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eastman and son Bobby, and Willis Wentworth were Warren shoppers Thursday, taking advantage of the sales of the Warren merchants.
